Natural computing - Wikipedia Nature-inspired models of computation The most established "classical" nature-inspired models of computation are cellular automata, neural computation, and evolutionary computation. More recent computational systems abstracted from natural processes include swarm intelligence, artificial immune systems, membrane computing, and amorphous computing. » Nature Inspired Computing - World Of Computing Nature Inspired Computing (NIC) is one that aims to develop new computing techniques after getting ideas by observing how nature behaves in various situations to solve complex problems. Research on NIC has opened new branches such as evolutionary computation , neural networks, artificial immune systems, swarm intelligence , and so on. Bio-inspired computing - Wikipedia Bio-inspired computing, short for biologically inspired computing, is a field of study that loosely knits together subfields related to the topics of connectionism, social behaviour and emergence. It is often closely related to the field of artificial intelligence , as many of its pursuits can be linked to machine learning.

Nature-Inspired Computation and Machine Learning ... The second volume deals with advances in nature-inspired computation and machine learning and contains also 44 papers structured into eight sections: genetic and evolutionary algorithms, neural networks, machine learning, machine learning applications to audio and text, data mining, fuzzy logic, robotics, planning, and scheduling, and.

Nature Inspired Computing: An Overview and Some Future ... Nature-inspired computing (NIC) refers to a class of meta-heuristic algorithms that imitate or are inspired by some natural phenomena explained by natural sciences discussed earlier. A common feature shared by all nature-inspired meta-heuristic algorithms is that they combine rules and randomness to imitate some natural phenomena.
